

Ms. Cua: Okay, thank you for that direction. We appreciate it.

Vice-Chair Mardfin: I would like to add, we also, in addition to talked about some workshops, we had talked about some site visits possibly to Lahaina and I would think that would also be a useful thing to do if we have blank day or blank afternoon or something. Commissioner, Chairman Starr?

Chair Starr: Yeah, we'd also talked about when we get a few things out to maybe do a trip out Haiku, Paia, maybe up Makawao if there's a few things that way and then also, it's time to get a update from Jim on the, on the collaborative work with Sea Grant and we see where we're up with that. I think that that's been some exciting news on that.

Vice-Chair Mardfin: Commissioner Hiranaga?

Mr. Hiranaga: Since we're on the topic of site visits, I'd like to revisit the site visit to Kahoolawe. I know there was talk about it when I first came on the commission, it got me all excited and I lost track of that maybe we could look at seeing what it would take to –

Vice-Chair Mardfin: Commissioner Hiranaga, I would love that. That would be the –

Mr. Hiranaga: I would definitely attend that.

Vice-Chair Mardfin: That would be my dream site visit.

Ms. Wakida: Is that in our jurisdiction, Kahoolawe?

Ms. Cua: Actually –

Chair Starr: Yes.

Ms. Cua: Yeah.

Ms. Wakida: I'm not saying – I'd love to visit it to, but –

Ms. Cua: Yeah, I think, I think, you know, we definitely can look at that, I know our budget is really, really strapped right now.

Vice-Chair Mardfin: I don't think anybody's planning for recycling truck on it however.

Ms. Cua: The thing with our site visits which we always try and do as you've known from the past is if there is interest in visiting a particular area, we try and see when we have a project or two or three like how we had in Wailuku-Kahului and then we piggy back the – you know, we put all those site visits together and I know there is talk of going to Lahaina and we were thinking when there's a project out there even if it may be in Kaanapali and if you want to do a, lets say a tour of the historic district, that's something that on the back this side we could do. So we try and get it where it maximizes the use of everybody's time and, you know, in the context of you reviewing a project in the future we could take you out there to look at the site and then look at some other things that's
