

A scenic view of a coastline, likely in Hawaii, featuring a bay with rocky shorelines and a cloudy sky. The water is a deep blue, and the rocks are dark and jagged. The sky is filled with large, white, fluffy clouds. The overall mood is serene and natural.

Lana'i will be a living –working model for building sustainability in commerce, energy, conservation, health care, housing, education and hospitality. In each endeavor, we will reach a “world class level of quality” and achieve results in a timely manner. We will work with respect for the people in our community and for the natural beauty and simplicity of Lana`i.
