Five members of the council shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may convene from time to time and compel the attendance of absent members in the manner and subject to the penalties prescribed by the rules of the council. Unless otherwise provided for herein, no action of the council shall be valid or binding unless adopted by a vote of five or more members of the council.

ARTICLE 15 TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS

Section 15-1. Existing Laws and Conflicting Laws.

1. All laws, ordinances, resolutions, and rules in force at the time this charter takes full effect, and not in conflict or inconsistent with this charter, are continued in force until repealed, amended, or superseded by proper authority. All laws that are inconsistent with this charter are superseded by the provisions of this charter at its effective date. All laws relating to or affecting this county or its departments, officials, or employees, and all county ordinances, resolutions, orders, and regulations that are in force when this charter takes full effect are repealed to the extent that they are inconsistent with or interfere with the effective operation of this charter or of ordinances or resolutions adopted by the county council under the provisions of this charter.

2. a. When construing provisions of this charter, the foremost obligation is to ascertain and give effect to the intent of the drafters—either members of the county council, members of the charter commission, or registered voters. Intent is to be obtained primarily from the language contained in this charter itself. This charter's language must be read in the context of the entire charter and construed in a manner consistent with the drafters' intent.

b. When there is doubt, doubleness of meaning, or indistinctiveness or uncertainty of an expression used in a statute, an ambiguity exists. In construing an ambiguous charter provision, the meaning of the ambiguous words may be sought by examining the context, with which the ambiguous words, phrases, and sentences may be compared, to ascertain their true meaning.

c. Extrinsic aids may be reviewed to determine intent. In the case of a charter provision drafted by the county council, the relevant committee report may be reviewed. In the case of a charter provision drafted by the charter commission, the relevant charter commission report may be reviewed. Courts may also consider the reason and spirit of the law, and the cause that induced the county council, the charter commission, or registered voters to propose the charter provision to discover its true meaning.

d. Charter provisions on the same subject matter must be construed with reference to each other. What is clear in one charter provision may be used to explain what is unclear in another.

e. Conflicting interpretations of the provisions of this charter must be resolved by complying with the intent of the most recent charter amendment pertaining to the conflict.

f. Elected and appointed officials, including the corporation counsel, must carefully interpret the provisions of this charter to ensure the officials do not violate the charter.
